Description

Stock #320849 - Lightweight Jay Flight 174 Bunkhouse. Lots of features packed into an easily towable camper. Includes the optional 13,500 BTU Roof A/C! Looking for a beginner camper for the family? Look no further! This lightly used Jay Flight SLX 174BH Travel Trailer is loaded with upgrades - the 13,500 BTU + Heat Strip Roof mounted AC unit, Full RV Cover - as shown in photos, Weight Distribution Hitch System, Exterior fiberglass walls, Exterior Storage Rack and a rubber storage enclosure for items stored on the rack plus spare tire! The 18-foot patio awning (electric) provides additional living space when at the campsite at the touch of a button! The unit has ample storage space inside and out. The family friendly floorplan offers 4 different sleeping areas: the master Bed, Bunk Beds (2), and the Dinette - that quickly converts into a twin bed. The Galley is fully equipped with refrigerator with interior freezer, a kitchen sink, microwave, range hood, and gas stovetop with two burners. There is a large pantry closet just to the right of the stove area. The master bed is a pedestal queen bed with storage space below and cabinet space above the bed. The dinette quickly converts into a twin bed and has cabinet space above it as well as the stereo. The bathroom (head) is at the end of the living space - and features a shower/tub with skylight overhead, and a toilet. There is a stereo system with zones that provide the ability to control sound inside and outside to the exterior speakers. Outside, the patio awning extends the fun when at the campsite - it has an LED light strip that provides great lighting for evening activities at the campsite. There is a storage space to the front of the RV that is a full width storage compartment. The Tongue Jack (manual) and the weight distribution system that is already installed and comes with the matching hitch. The 20-pound propane tank provides gas for water heater and the furnace. The house battery is behind the propane tank in a battery box. All of the RV systems are clearly marked and easily accessible. At the rear of the unit is a fold up storage shelf that drops down by pulling a cotter pin clip and the pin that allows you to lower the storage rack. There is a photo of the rubber storage enclosure for items stored on the shelf in transit to keep them dry and protected.
